Cinnamon Vine Bulblets.

These do not compare with the roots as they require a year longer to make strong vines, but a half dozen or so are very desirable to use in cheap "Collections." They also make an exceeding attractive Premium to give for a list of names, or to those who distribute your Catalogs and circulars. You can quickly and cheaply extend your trade by this means.

Potato "Seed-Ball" Seed.

Electros of Potato Seed Balls free with an order for 100 packets or more.

Why Not Catalog Potato Seed?

It is a Grand Seller.

The following is from my retail Catalog and the testimonials show what my seed will produce. Customers may copy same if they wish.

Hybridized Potato Seed.

SEED BALLS.

I have the pleasure of offering a very choice strain of Potato Seed—the product of numerous hybridizations between many of the best new and old varieties in cultivation. Growing new sorts from the seed-ball seed is a very interesting employment for old or young. There is the widest range of difference in color, shape and general characteristics between the different seedlings; every one is more or less unlike every other. Great success has already attended the attempt to improve this valuable esculent, and the end is not yet—many varieties will yet be found which will bring a golden harvest to the fortunate growers, and prove of inestimable value to the world.

Directions for planting, cultivating etc. on each pkt.

Price, 10 Cts. per Pkt. 3 for 25 cts. 7 for 50 cts.

From E. A. Goodspeed, Onon Co, N. Y. Aug. 31st. I have got a grand new seedling potato from your seed, and have raised 400 bushels. A prominent seedsman wants to introduce them and is trying to buy me out. I have six more seedlings that are more than good.

From Jesse Green, Ill. I grew one of your seedlings that is from one to two weeks ahead of Early Ohio, Early Rose, or Beauty of Hebron, and were fully ripe, July 12th (others still green.) They are very productive and the best eating potato I have.

WM. M. JOHNSON, of Tampico, Ind. writes:—"The packet of Potato-Seed you sent me done well. Some look like the peach-blow, —some are a beautiful pale pink, large and long for a seedling the first year, they are a beauty. Some large white, purple eyes:—some round, pale red, 30 to 50 in a hill:—some pale blue:—some white, flat, and three inches or more long;—two hills of black potatoes, &c. &c. I never saw so many different colors and shapes.

P. L. Van Allen, Columbia Co., N. Y. writes:—Those Potato Seeds were a marvel, I have between 40 and 50 different kinds.

C. E. Flint, Blaine, Wash. writes:—I grew 115 different varieties from one packet of your Potato Seed. They are the finest I ever saw. I expect to make a lot of money out of them.

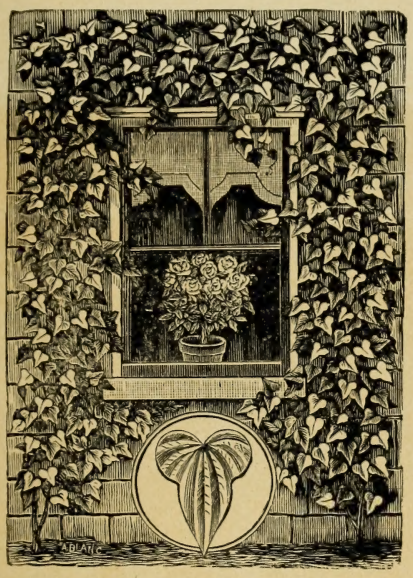
Beautiful, Fragrant, Cinnamon Vines.

Beautiful Leaves, Dainty Flowers, Exquisite Perfume.

The Cinnamon Vine–from the Oriental land, is one of the most charming of climbers, and will quickly surround your arbor, window or veranda with a wonderful profusion of vines covered with handsome, glossy, heart-shaped leaves and sweet scented flowers, making it a perfect bower of beauty. PERFECTLY HARDY—thriving everywhere, and once planted will grow for many years, and be a source of constant delight to the possessor. The Vines often run 25 to 40 feet, and when trained over and about a wiudow or veranda is universally admired, while its many clusters of delicate, unique white flowers, send out an amount of delicious fragrance that is as truly wonderful as it is indescribable.



Beautiful, Hardy, Entrancingly Fragrant.
Grows in Shade or Sun--Wet or Dry.
No Insects Ever Trouble--No Winter Harms.
Once Planted Will Grow a Lifetime.

Everyone should plant these lovely vines. No home is complete without them. They stand the hardest winter without injury, and burst forth in all their marvelous splendor very early in the spring—as fine a climber as any lover of beautiful flowers can wish.

CINNAMON VINES may also be grown indoors in winter, and make one of the most attractive of window climbers.

Lydia and M. J. Clarkson, Authors of "Art Studies," writes :—No vine ever gave us so much continued pleasure. The growth is truly phenomenal. Its handsome foliage and fragrant blossoms commend it to every lover of flowers. If its merits were more widely known you would be overwhelmed with orders.

Mrs. C. Hensley, Barnard, Ind., wyites :—The Cinnamon Vines you sent me grew 30 feet last year and was the talk and wonder of the naborhood.

From the Gentlewoman Magazine, New York :—The Cinnamon Vine—new from China, will thrive everywhere, and when once established will grow forever. Its fragrance is as truly wonderful as the beauty of the vine itself. The roots recently sold for $10.00 each.

S. Wilson, Pa., writes :—The Cinnamon Vine blossoms as freely in the house as out doors, and will fill a room with a delightful fragrance in the cold and dreary winter months.

W. Weeks, Barre, Mass., writes :—I enclose order for 100 more vines. I sold the last lot in fifteen minutes.

P. O. Vickery, Ex-Mayor, and well known Publisher of Augusta, Me., says—The Cinnamon Vine surprised me by its rapid growth and beauty. It has the very desirable qualities claimed for it.

Mrs. F. Allen, Mystic, Ct., says :—The Vine is beautiful and so fragrant it perfumes the whole house.
